HICAGO A NORTH WESTN. MISSOURI PACIFIC pot 15th and Webster > moaths. Mosner has, in addition to the privileges refe rel to, been made the confidential ad-visor of the infer. He has the run of the office and when information concerning priso ters is requested of Jalier Bennett that tragrant bunch of mecompetency more often than otherwise asks Mosher to furnish the de-irod information. Mosher spends much of his leisure time at the telephone talking to his friends in different parts of the city. He instructs them to ask for Wallace or Watson when they call for him in order to mislead any one who might hear them if they called for Mosher.

Mosher is a great patron of the theater and sees everything new that comes along. He saw the "Isie of Champagne" at the Boyd Friday night from a seat in the upper gallery, with his friend Theydora Paragraph. "Lady and the Tiger" in Revised Edition at gallery, with his friend Theodore Bennett as his chaperone. CHAMPAGNE CHARLEY AND HIS PRIVILEGES

Making Some Affidavits.

After reading The Ber yesterday after-noon Sheriff Bennett and Back Wrecker Mosher, who are running the county jail just now, marshaled all their deputies and had each of them make an affidavit to the effect that they had never—no never— allowed Charley Mosher to leave the confines of the county bastile only to go to his means and then he was never further away than an arm's length from his guardian. After having these affidavits made out to cover his case the sheriff hied himself to the office of a newspaper which is published on lower Farnam street and the affidavits will probably be made public this morning.

CINCHED THE VAGS.

Judge Berka Puts a Number of Loafers Out of Temptatron's Way.

Judge Berka was in an exceedingly good humor yesterday morning and was lenient with some of the prisoners brought up. His good humor did not, however, prevent him from sonking some of the old timers. A vagrant, who is known to the detectives as "Chicago Slim," unlimbered his long legs and set his mouth to working to try and explain why he had been fighting with "Kid" Williams. Each prisoner blamed the other and to even matters up a fine of $25 cach was marked opposite the combatants' names on the clerk's memoranda. Pete Ward is a vagrant who drifts around this way once in a while. But he won't work back doors for hand-outs for half a month, as Mr. Berka thought a steady boarding house for that length of time would be beneficial.

Another tough looking bit of humanity gave his name as Jacob Webstein, and admitted that he was an idle person. "Ten days at hard labor" was the label on the ticket drawn by this man.

Then the old familiar face of Boston Green showed up, and of course Boston said guilty when the court suggested that he had been on a spree. A $12.50 fine was imposed. Old Pat Kearney stopped in front of the judge's desk just long enough to remark that he only drank a little beer. "That will cost you $10, Pat," said the judge and Patrick was led below, where he will spend the week in a coli. The man who was arrested Saturday night for acting queer on the street, gave his name as David Muench, and also gave the court a talk. He was given twenty minutes to get to the bridge.

Fritz Schneiderind is a little boy about 9 years old and he persists in running away from home. Yesterday Officer Keysor arrested the lad for being incorrigible. He will be turned over to his parents as soon as he promises to behave himself.

Minor Police Matters, Inspector of Police William McLaughlin of New York city has informed Chief Seavey that a genuine Rembrandt painting had been stolen from a family in that city and the police will look out for it. The painting is valued at $5,000 and has been owned in this one family for seventy-five years. It is a panel 13x16 inches and is the head of the wife of the famous artist.

Mrs. Minnie Curry, the colored woman who resisted Officer Sam Dubois Sunday when he attempted to arrest her for drunkenness, was fined $75 in police court yesterday afternoon.

day with Father Javininski, the Polish priest. These gentlemen do not come to the city as mere visitors, but as the representatives of a large colony of wealthy Poles which will be located in this vicinity. Conte Lubinski has been connected with the Polish exhibit at the World's fair and at the same time he has been looking up a suitable location for a colony of his people who will emigrate from Polana either this winter or early next spring. After having traveled over many of the western states and made a study of the country, he has concluded that this state is the garden spot and here the colony will be located. His idea is to buy 10,000 acres of land and divide it into small farms. As soon as the land is purchased, arrangements will be commenced for the erection of a sugar factory and shops for the manufacture of agricultural implements. Yesterday in discussing the subject, Mr. Lubinski stated that his idea was to buy the land in the vicinity of Omaha, if possible. If he could not do this, he would buy in the western part of the county. The gentlemen have gone out to Grand Island, where they will inspect the beet sugar fac-tory, after which they will take a short pleasure trip through the mountains, re-turning to this city in the course of a couple of weeks. Upon their return they will begin negotiating for the lands. Polish Farmers briven Here. New York, Oct. 23.-A little colony of Polish Hebrew farmers arrived here on the Marsala, having fled from the Argentine Republic, it is said, to escape the scourge of grasshoppers. They say they left home four years ago and went to Argentina, where they secured a large tract of land. They were bothered some by the natives. They did not mind this, but when the grasshop-pers came and are up the wheat crops the farmers at first decided to return to Europo.

Now they have come over to try their for-tunes in the United States. COULD NOT PLEASE THEM.

Pacific Express Employes Not Satisfied with the Reduction of Wages. President E. M. Morsman of the Pacific Express company said yesterday in explaining the recent cut in salaries of the headquarters building: "Our decreased earnings demanded a reduction, and as we had all our back work up it was suggested that the force in the building only affected by the order, be somewhat reduced. But the men decided to take a reduction in wages rather than have the force decreased and so the order was issued. "Now there is a great deal of dissatisfac-tion, as I understand it. If we had dis-charged ten or lifteen men and paid the same salaries to the others there would not be half the dissatisfaction that now exists. We have too many men now for the work of the winter months but the employes accided to stand a cut and now are dissatis-

Death of E. B. Bates. At 7:30 on Saturday evening. E. B. Bates, head of the commission house of E. B. Bates & Son and father of J. E. Bates of the firm of Bates & Co. died at the age of 67. The dereased moved from Waterlog, Ia., to this city about two years ago and with his son Frank engaged in the produce commission business. He was an active member of the firm up until within about seven days prior to his death. He was taken sick not considered dangerously however, unti-within two hours before ne died. Funeral will occur from his residence. Seventeenth and Ohio, Tuesday, October 24, at 2 o'clock to Forest Lawn. All friends invited.

WITH BATTLE CREEK DEAD

Eighteen of Those Killed in the Wreck Have Been Recognized by Friends.

TEN STILL REMAIN TO BE IDENTIFIED

Giving Names to the Charred and Mangled Victims of the Grand Trunk Wreck-Prosecution Will He Rigoronsly Conducted.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 23. - Eighteen of the twenty-eight dead, as a result of the wrock here on the Grand Trunk Friday morning, have been identified.

There are still twenty-two badly injured patients. Of these, Mrs. Vance, who has both legs cut off, cannot live. Albert H. Bradley of Simeoc. Ont., died.

here tonight. He was cashier in the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Toronto, and his demise awells the number of deaths to twenty-eight. Yesterday afternoon friends identified one of the burned bodies as that of the widow of Dr. Aldrich of Edwardsburg, Mich. Late last night two more of the bodies were identified as those of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saxe of New York city. They were identified by a brother from that city. Three more bodies have been recognised today, bringing up the number of identified podies to eighteen, and leaving ten still unknown and probably unknowable. The complete list of dead is:

Governor Rich and State Commissioner Billings arrived here yesterday to be present at the coroner's inquest, which was to have opened at 9 o'clock this morning. Owing to the absence of one of the jurors there was some delay, and it was considerably later than that hour when the proceedings started. In the course of the inquiry some sensa-tional legal developments are expected. Prosecutor Clark was the busiest man in Battle Creek this morning. He means to leave no stone unturned in sifting the nor-rible affair to the bottom. "I knew con-victions are seidom obtained in these cases."

Conte Lubinski of Warsaw and John Wyzenski of Tozer, Poland, arrived in the city from Chicago, Sunday, and spent the day with Father Javiniaski, the Polish whether the rush of business has them to employ incompetent subordinates, and if so why they should not be responsible for such acts. There are a great many features of the affair which will bear investigation. I cannot understand why a high building should have been placed inside the curve where the accident occurred, effectually shutting of all view in each direction. Again we have ordinances which prohibit the running of trains within the city limits at a speed exceeding ten miles per hour. I think the speed made by the eastbound train must have been great from the time it left the depot in order to strike with such ter-rible force. Engine and Four Steepers Derailed. ARRON, O., Oct. 23 .- The Baltimore & Obio vestibuled train which left Chicago at 5 p. m. last night ran into an open switch at Callery Junction on the Pittsburg & Western division of the Baltimore & Ohio at 7:36 this morning. The engine and four sleeping cars were detailed. One of the sleeping cars went over an embankment. A wresk-ing crew was sent out to replace the train on the track and traffic was resumed about noon.

The accided was caused by an open switch at a siding. The momentum of the heavy train was such that as the tender ran into the siding it was thrown from the track and overturned. The first sleeper was forced by the tender, it being sideswiped, which tore all the outer timbers of one side. The sleeper jumped the track and went down a cinder bank. The passengers were thrown out of their berths, but sustained no injuries more serious than a few bruises. Two other sleepers left the track and their tracks were demolished. The front trucks of the fourth sleeper left the track, but the rest trucks remained on the rank.

terested spectator, if not always a partici-pant. The fact that gambling is a crime under the laws of Nebraska probably never dawned upon Theodore Bannett as he watched the play. Theodore's head is built upon a plan that prevents things from dawn-Leit His Prisoner Unguarden. At one time when Bennett and Henderson were making a night of it Henderson became deeply absorbed in a game and Bennett, who was only a spectator, became hungry. He didn't have the heart to tear his friend from his game and so went to lunch leaving Henderson unguarted at the gambling table and did not return to take him to the jail for several hours, in fact when he returned the game had been ended and the house was about to be closed for the night, the gamolers only waiting for Bennett to return and take their best customer back to his cell. Champagne Charley's Advent. The advent of Charles W. Mosher into the county jail brought on the climax of official delinquency. Mosher went to the county jail under a five year sentence in the pententiary, imposed by Judge Dundy of the United States court, after conviction on the charge of having wrecked the Capital National bank at Lincoln and defrauded the depositors and stockholders out of more than $1,000,000. Having as a contractor been the lessee of the state penitertiary at Lincoln ods and soon made himself very comfortable. Like a prince under temporary restraint, his jatiers were his subjects and religiously at-tended to his every want. He did not have to share the cell of men who had been incar-cerated for minor offenses but was giver a special room in the residence part of the jail building. This he was allowed to fit up with his own furniture, and he furnished the place like a parlor in his own house and leav-ing out nothing that would add to his comfort or convenience. Here he lived like a prince. The jailer's forces were made his

Theodore Bennett is notoriously a sport and, as a failer, has given liberties to more than one prisoner who has wanted to see the dark side of the city by gas light. One of the jailer's special favorites was Henderson, formerly head of the Henderson Investment company, who was in jail on the charge of embezzlement. Henderson had been accused of having appropriated the funds intrusted to his care and had been placed under bonds of $5,000 to await trial in the district court. He was unable to furnish bail and was given into Sheriff Bennett's hands for safe keeping. Henderson was something of a high roller and found a sympathetic spirit in the person of his jailer, Theodore Bennett, The jailer and Hender-son made frequent tours of the city together prince. The jailer's forces were made his attendants, and anything that the ex-banker wanted was credered promptly. Mosher Makes a Mash. But there were other luxuries than those of the table of which Mosher did not want to be deprived, and he had his way. While he was in the charge of the United States marshal, before Judge Dundy had sentenced him to the penitentiary, he was practically given the freedom of the city. He was taken to the theaters and places of amusement, and spent a portion of his time in certain houses of assignation in this city and in Council Bluffs. It was when on one of these trips that Mosher met the woman who has played an important part in making his imprisonment in the county juli far from irksome. On June 2 Mosher and a federal official visited an assignation house on Paul street near Twentieth. There the men were introduced to Nellie Sayre or Sawyer, who captured Mosher completely. The visit was followed closely, by another trip on June 5 when Mosher sent. Nellie and her friend, a girl who is now living decently in St. Louis, to Ringling Bres.' circus. Mosher visited the place frequently after that and took charge of the Sawyer girl, lavishing money upon her and keeping her in luxurious style. She Was a "Sister" to Mosher. Along about the middle of July the keepe Along about the middle of July the keeper of the assignation house in question removed to a place down town and Mosher sent his woman to the Midland hotel, where her board was paid for a month or more, when she was sent to Lincoln where she remained for a week or more. About the 1st of October Nellie returned from Lincoln and took furnished woman at the fit opening the urnished rooms at the flat occupied by Mrs. ngalls at 1817 Leavenworth street, where she still lives. Then came the fine part of the play. The woman had changed her name and came back to Omaha as Miss Wat-son, a sister of Mr. Charles W. Watson, alias Mosher, a prisoner in the county jail. Durng the past month the woman has been a ing the past month the woman has been a frequent visitor to the jail to see her brother and has been admitted as a sister to Mosher. This fact is known to severate employes and officials all over the county building. Mosher has visited the woman at her rooms frequently, but has kept pretty close to cover since the newspapers have been employing Remettants. een opposing Beanett and calling attention to the mismanagement of the jail. But the woman has made her regular visits to her brother, aided and spetted by Theodore Ben-bett and his understudies. Occupants of the flat in which the inamorata of Moaher rooms report that while Mosher pays the bills Jailer Hennett has been sharing in the spolls and has been a frequent visitor at the woman's rooms. A janitor at the court house also became enamored of the fran alleged sister of the bank wrecker and made a play to be taken into the favored circle of her friends, but was repulsed and swore vengeance, but he owes his job to the Rennett influence, and was promptly hushed up by that influence. Went Stumming in Council Bluffs.

But Mosher's operations have not been confined to Omala sluce he has been under the wing of the law. Before he was sentenced he was taken with a deputy United States marshal to Metcalf's road house east of Council Biuffs and spent the night in revelry. Since his confinement in the county jail, after the sentence, Mosher has made at east one trip to the road house in Iowa and has not been accompanied by an official, fed-eral or county. Sheriff Bennett lives in the and cannot but be familiar with all of this abuse of the laws of the state and of de-cency that has been going on in the jail for
